Upton 43 Restaurant	4312 Upton Ave South	Minneapolis	MN	55410	612-920-3406	Every hour that they are open during the entire year.		7/1/2016 - 6/30/2017		BAD BREAKING NEWS: Upton 43 has closed its doors and lutfisk is no longer available all year long. BREAKING NEWS! Lutfisk dinners are now available all year in Minneapolis. I just visited the Upton 43 restaurant at (where else) 43rd and Upton South in Minneapolis and spoke with the owner, Chef Erick Harcey. His restaurant is in the remodeled former Bayer Hardware building and is very attractive. The menu is very interesting with many Swedish items but does not have lutfisk on it. However, lutfisk dinners are available if they are given 48 hours advance notice: anytime that they are open. This is very good news!

Brianno's Deli - Italia	2280 Cliff Road at Cedar	Eagan	MN	55122	651-895-1088	Near Thanksgiving to Christmas		11/20/13 - 12/24/13		LUTFISK, ITALIAN STYLE! First, this is a deli, not a restaurant so it's take home. What is Lutfisk, Italian Style? It is a fish that starts out the same as the dried cod for lutfisk in the Lofoton Islands of Norway or off the coast of Newfoundland & Labrador, called Baccala . But the Italians have it salted when it is dried so that it doesn't have to be soaked in lye when it is reconstituted. It originated in Italy the same way as in Scandinavia; as a way to preserve food for the winter. And it evolved into a Christmas holiday food there as well. There are many more ways to serve it than lutfisk and they are not all white (red sauce, garlic, pasta, etc.). Google "Baccala" or go to the following website for more information:  www.delallo.com/how-to-prepare-christmas-eve-baccala  Or call Brianno's.
